TL;DR

- ◆ Contact first: #3 2021 Grand Touring Reserve at BMW Seattle ($24,999), then #1 2023 2.5 Turbo at Puyallup Mazda ($28,199), then #7 2022 Carbon Edition CPO at Lee Johnson Mazda ($26,972).
- ◇ Cheapest solid vs. stretch: 2021 Grand Touring at $25,192 ($556/mo) vs. 2023 2.5 Turbo at $28,199 ($621/mo) — +$3,007 list, +$65/mo buys two model years, the turbo, and 5k fewer miles.
- ◇ Trim value: the 2023 2.5 Turbo ($28,199 vs. $30,980) and the 2021 GT Reserve ($24,999 vs. $27,770) both sit about $2.8k under KBB Seattle fair purchase price. Avoid the 2021 Signature — it trades $1,421 over.
- ◇ Financing math: every $1,000 financed ≈ $19.47/mo at 6.30% APR over 60 months. No Mazda CPO promo rate applies to the CX-5 right now (3.9% is CX-90/CX-70 only).

Price vs. miles — where the picks sit in the market

● 2021 ◆ 2022 ▲ 2023 | ● passing listing (112) ● shortlist pick, labeled by rank

All 112 listings that passed the filters (from the merged, de-duplicated set), plotted by odometer and list price. Read it vertically: at any given mileage, a dot below the cloud is priced under comparable cars — that is where the numbered shortlist picks should sit, and mostly do. Hover or tap a dot for details.

Which trim is the best buy

KBB Fair Purchase Price vs. the lowest clean listing found

KBB national = kbb.com pricing pages (default zip, “typical” mileage). KBB Seattle = per-listing FPP averaged from KBB search results (mileage-adjusted, local). Δ = lowest clean listing – Seattle FPP (or national when Seattle n/a).

² No Seattle FPP for this cell; Δ shown vs national — national is systematically ~$3–5k low (default-zip, higher-mileage assumption), so treat these as “at market,” not overpriced.

Δ vs. KBB Seattle fair purchase price (rows with a Seattle FPP)

Where the market is soft right now

- 2023 2.5 Turbo is the standout buy — $28,199 vs Seattle FPP $30,980, ~$2.8k under. Only 2 in the dataset and both under book. If you want the turbo, 2023 is cheaper relative to value than 2022 ($27,300 vs $27,370 FPP = at-market).
- 2021 GT Reserve at $24,999 is turbo + vented leather + HUD for Grand-Touring money — $2,771 under its own FPP and only $200 more than a 2021 GT.
- Premium Plus is worth the stretch over Premium: 2023 Premium lowest is $27,545, Premium Plus lowest is $28,915 — $1,370 gap buys 360° camera, vented seats, wireless CarPlay, rear heated seats. That's ~$27/mo.
- Avoid 2021 Signature — trading $1,400 over Seattle FPP; the GT Reserve one rung down is $1,500 cheaper for the same drivetrain.

Email template — itemized OTD request

Hi — I'm Evan, looking at your [YEAR] Mazda CX-5 [TRIM], stock #[STOCK] / VIN [VIN]. I'm comparing several CX-5s in the Seattle area this week and narrowing to two or three. Could you email me an itemized out-the-door quote in writing — vehicle price, doc fee, sales tax, title/registration, and any dealer add-ons listed separately? I'm undecided on financing vs. outside lender, so please quote the cash OTD; we can talk financing after. Thanks — happy to come see the car once I have the numbers.

Sources & method

13 sources across 2 rounds

SOURCE	STATUS	PULLED	WHAT IT ADDED
AutoTempest	ok	77	Aggregator seed — Cars.com / CarGurus / TrueCar / Carvana / CarSoup / AutoByTel VINs in one shot
CarGurus	ok (VDPs only)	41	Richest per-car data: accidents, owners, CPO, photo count, days-on-lot, $-below-market. Search page is DataDome-blocked; detail pages fetched via AutoTempest listing IDs
CarMax	ok	72	National no-haggle floor via /cars/api/search/run JSON API. Transfer fees per unit
Carvana	blocked (fallback ok)	10	Cloudflare Turnstile on carvana.com; 10 listings recovered via AutoTempest
KBB	ok	47	Round-2 win. Per-listing KBB Fair Purchase Price + delta, price-drop history, AutoCheck vhrPreview (accidents / 1-owner), CPO flag. Cox backend = Autotrader inventory
iSeeCars	ok	20	Price/miles only (no VIN on search page). 15/20 soft-matched to existing VINs — confirmed cross-listing, no net-new inventory
Craigslist	ok	11	All dealer reposts (Royal Moore, Mazda of Gladstone, Ron Tonkin). No private-party CX-5s in range. No VINs on search page
Autotrader	blocked	0	Akamai bot-block (headful too). Same Cox inventory as KBB — covered
Edmunds	blocked	0	403 edge/WAF, IP-based. Tried headless, headful, direct API
Cars.com (VDPs)	blocked	0	Cloudflare challenge on detail pages. Search-page data via AutoTempest is fine (18 listings)

SOURCE	STATUS	PULLED	WHAT IT ADDED
TrueCar	blocked	0	PerimeterX captcha. 5 listings recovered via AutoTempest
CarFax	blocked	0	DataDome captcha (captcha-delivery.com)
FB Marketplace	blocked	0	Login wall — skipped per read-only rule

Honest read: the proxy IP is on Akamai / Cloudflare / DataDome / PerimeterX blocklists, so 6 of 13 direct sources are unreachable. But the blocks cost almost nothing: Autotrader = KBB inventory (got it), TrueCar / Cars.com = AutoTempest feed (got it), CarFax listings = mostly CarGurus overlap. Net-new inventory from round 2 is ~22 cars (KBB-only VINs); everything else was already in round 1 under a different badge.

Dedupe: 278 raw → 153 unique VINs (VIN-matched) + 10 no-VIN orphans. 21 no-VIN records soft-matched to existing VINs by (year, ±1k mi, ±$250) and folded in as “also on” tags.

Filter & ranking rules

- Disqualify: any reported accident, fleet / rental prior use, lemon or frame-damage flag, fewer than 6 photos (where photo count is known), missing VIN (unless Craigslist / iSeeCars-flagged), missing price or miles.
- Trim: unwanted trims (Sport, Select, base 2.5 S) dropped unless priced more than $3k under the year average.
- Rank: deal rating / KBB FPP delta → $ below market → 1-owner → CPO → miles per dollar; at least 3 non-CarGurus sources and all 3 model years enforced on the shortlist.

NHTSA recalls: 0 open campaigns for MY2021–2023 CX-5 (checked 8/7/26). Verify by VIN at nhtsa.gov/recalls before purchase.

Footnotes

- Merge: 278 raw records (R1 200 + R2 78) → 153 unique VINs by exact VIN match; 21 no-VIN records soft-matched by (year, ±1k mi, ±$250); 10 no-VIN orphans retained (Craigslist / iSeeCars). Per-source primary contribution after dedupe: CarMax 68, CarGurus 41, KBB 22, Carvana 10, Cars.com 7, iSeeCars 5 orphan, Craigslist 5 orphan, TrueCar 2, CarSoup 2, AutoByTel 1.
- KBB national FPP is default-zip (75201) at “typical” mileage — reads ~$3–5k below Seattle retail across the board. Use the Seattle-derived FPP column for delta math.
- #6 KBB record has null kbbFpp (delta shows as −$25,198 in raw data — artifact, ignored).
- CarMax pick #11: priorUse=[] (no fleet flag); CarMax history report available on the vehicle page.
- iSeeCars adds no VINs and no history data — useful only as a cross-listing signal. Craigslist yielded zero private-party sellers in this range.
- Data captured Aug 7, 2026.

Research compiled Aug 7, 2026. Read-only scan — no dealer was contacted, no forms submitted. Not affiliated with any seller. Verify history reports and pricing independently before purchase.
